One of the best ways of getting money into circulation is by paying one's bills, house rent, or other bills, by bill, until the entire sum can be raised. There may be times when it is folly to make "two bits at a cherry," but it is not so when settling one's bills. By paying what you owe, you show a desire at least to do the right thing, it helps to establish confidence and a half loaf (or even a quarter) is better than no bread.

RICHARD A. Shellman announces himself in this issue of the News as a candidate for the office of Jailer in the action of the Democratic party. Mr. Shellman is a substantial farmer living near Hardinsburg, and has an extensive acquaintance throughout the county. He is a Democrat of the old school, having stood with the party and its nominees under all conditions. He has never offered for office before that we know of for many years he has been its faithful friend.

Mr. Lee Wallis announces himself as a candidate for the office of Jailer in this issue of the News and in the action of the Democratic party. Mr. Wallis is a citizen of the Union Star district and there is no doubt as to his competency. He has good following among his home people for this office and this is in the light of his stay and proposes to make a much longer stay in the county than he has in this race. The News wishes Mr. Wallis success.

The announcement of Mr. Henry Matthews as a candidate for the office of County Attorney, subject to the action of the Democratic party, appears in the proper place in this issue of the News. He is a good looking, energetic young man, who has been in the practice of his profession for some years. Mr. Matthews is qualified for the office and will make a good lawyer if elected. He is a thorough Democrat and has always stood by his party. The News hopes that Mr. Matthews will succeed.

William R. Embury, of this city, a staunch Democrat, announces himself in this issue as a candidate for the office of county Jailer. Mr. Embury is well-known as a law-abiding citizen, and has been in the race once for Coroner as nominee of the Democratic party. He has been a life-long worker for the welfare and success of the party, and appeals to the voters for their aid and assistance at the county convention which meets in Hardinsburg March 30th. If he should receive the nomination he will be a hard man to beat in the coming year, and will be capable of discharging the duties of the office. The News hopes the Democratic party will give Mr. Embury the claims of a fair and impartial consideration.

ST. MORTON is again to fore the Democrats asking for their endorsement for the office of Jailer. It will be remembered that Mr. Morton was previously elected by this party three years ago and was only defeated by a small vote. He is a life-long Democrat and is the only one of a large family in this county who has sided with the party. His father before him and all of his brothers being strong and dyed-in-the-wool Republicans. Mr. Morton says if given the nomination he will be a sure winner in November. He has a large family connection who are Democrats and is one of the strong men in the county. If Mr. Morton is the winner in the election it will take the best Republican in the county to defeat him.

Is this issue of the News we announce the name of Mr. J. H. WEAVER as a candidate for the office of County Clerk. The ticket is a good one and will doubtless meet with no opposition. The candidate is a young man, but each of them, or any one of them, will be able to perform the duties that will be required of them. The office is a responsible one, as these men well recognize, and they are capable and energetic men, and elected, will perform their duties without fear or favor. Richard Owen, of this city, the clerk with the following name: Charles Miller, of Hardinsburg; Scott Carr, of Union Star; Mr. Owen is popular and well-known all over the county. He has made a good choice in the selection of his judges, and the News wishes him success.

In this issue of the News appears the announcement of Mr. Knable Harmon of Hardinsburg, as a candidate for the office of County Superintendent of Schools in this county, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Mr. Harmon is a new man in politics, was raised a Republican but after reaching manhood, cast his lot with the Democratic party, and has been voting with the party ever since. He is a good choice in the selection of his judges, and the News wishes him success.

It makes us feel a little aged when we go over to Glendale and see the boys, Ed, Dean, Jesse and Dave Morgan, in their gray coats, now heads of families and looked upon over there as the old men of the county. It was only a little while ago when they were young boys going to school in this town, lively and frolicsome with curls flying about their heads, and they were the places of their fathers and follow in their footsteps. They are now like their fathers, the substantial citizens of the neighborhood and stand with its business interest and prosperity.

Reverend Mr. Grant preached at Gaston, last Sunday morning and evening. Miss Mauds Adkins was received into the church at the morning service.

Cloverport public school will close next Friday. Mr. Logan has secured an excellent class of students, and on Monday, Feb. 1, he will begin one of the most successful private schools ever taught in the city.

successful and filled the office acceptably for four years. Again he became a candidate for the nomination for County Clerk, in which race he was defeated. This was no discredit to him however, as his opponent was one of the strongest men in the county. By Beavin is a graduate of Cecil College, Ky. He has taught school in this county for five years, all of which simply qualifies him for the office he now seeks. There is no discount on his Democracy for he has always been one of the party's strong workers. If given the nomination for this office he will poll the support of his party and perhaps some others.

Any step toward such a surrender of sovereign power, as the surrender by the banks to the Government of the right to issue paper money would be, must be strenuously opposed. It will not do to rest in idleness until the danger is upon us in all its force. We must at once prepare to baffle any efforts that have in view the weakening of the control of the Government over the issue of money. The guardianship of the volume of money carries with it the guardianship over our measure of value, and the power of the Government, to control the volume of currency, and hence its ability
